Whether opening or closing your conference – Expect a Bang! I relate to the audience and engage everyone from senior executives, to sales professionals

My Style

I'm high-energy, fast-paced speaker who combines strong content with an entertaining delivery. I will make an intellectual and emotional connection with your audience. I'm most often described in my evaluations as "real", "down-to-earth", and "funny"

Development

I pride myself on being easy to work with and very flexible to your needs. To have every attendee rave about my presentation and to be invited back every time! Finally, I want to exceed your expectations at every opportunity provided to me.

What You Take Home

Audience members who attend my sessions regularly refer to the "tips" I provide in each of my presentations. I keep content simple, short, and sweet so they remember it later. I provide written handouts with key points to remember for every session.

Our Services

To provide a fun and entertaining environment they can learn in. I want to keep them focused during the meeting and after the meeting I want them to say, "This is the Best Speaker we've ever had!"
